CONTENTS.

Correspondence of the Agent, Governor-General, North-West Frontier, and Resident, Lahore, with Government, Miscellaneous Correspondence and translations of Vernacular Correspondence, 1846—1847.

1. The records of which this is a Press List are contained in Books Nos. 171, 173—177, 183—189 and 192—194. The books containing letters received from Government from the 1st January to the 25th July 1846 and during the first half of 1847, and letters issued to Government from the 25th September 1847 to the end of the year are missing. The receipts and issues are filed separately, but in the Press List they have been combined and arranged chronologically. As noted in the Preface to Volume VII, Major G. Broadfoot, C. B., the Agent to the Governor-General for the North-West Frontier, was killed at the battle of Ferozeshah on the 21st December 1845. The exact date on which Major H. M. Lawrence, who was appointed Agent to the Governor-General, North-West Frontier, in succession to Major Broadfoot, took charge does not appear from the correspondence, but Mr. F. Currie, Secretary to the Government of India, held charge temporarily until the arrival of Major Lawrence from Nepál. Major Lawrence's first letter from Lahore is dated the 23rd February 1846. The Treaty of Lahore was signed on the 9th March 1846 and the Supplementary Articles of Agreement on the 11th idem. The treaty inter alia provided for the cession in full sovereignty to the British Government of the territory lying between the Sutlej and Beas Rivers, while under the Articles of Agreement the Governor-General engaged to leave at Lahore until the close of the year 1846 a British Force for the purpose of protecting the person of the Maharaja and the inhabitants of the city of Lahore during the reorganization of the Sikh Army, the Darbar, on its part, agreeing to pay to the British Government all the extra expenses connected with the said force.

2. On the conclusion of the treaty Maharani Janda Kaur (alias Jindan), the mother of Maharaja Dalip Singh, was recognised as Regent of the State, with Raja Lal Singh as Executive Minister under the advice and direction of the Agent to the Governor-General, North-West Frontier. Serving under the Agent were two Commissioners and Superintendents, viz., Major F. Mackeson, C.B., for the Cis-Sutlej Territory at Ferozepore, and Mr. J. Lawrence for the Trans-Sutlej Territory at Jullundur, as well as the Hon'ble Mr. J. C. Erskine as Sub-Commissioner in charge of the Protected Hill States at Simla. The districts constituting the Cis-Sutlej Territory were Kaithal, Ambála, Ludhiána, Wadni and Ferozepore, while those forming the Trans-Sutlej charge were Jullundur, Hoshiárpur and Kángra, with the Hill States lying west of the Sutlej. Under the Agent to the Governor-General were three officers appointed "for foreign affairs," viz., Captain J. Abbott, Captain A. Broome and Lieutenant J. Nicholson. No Gradation Lists of officers are traceable, but from the correspondence filed in the books detailed above it appears that the following officers were employed in the North-West Frontier Agency during 1846 in the capacities noted against their names :—

CAPTAIN S. A. ABBOTT, Deputy Commissioner and Political Assistant, Kaithal and Ládwa. Was also in charge of Boundary and Settlement duties.

CAPTAIN J. ABBOTT, Commissioner for the adjustment of the boundary between Jammu and British Territory. Lieutenant R. Young of the Engineers was his Assistant.

Mr. G. Blunt, Collector and Magistrate of Aligarh, officiating temporarily as Commissioner of the Trans-Sutlej Territory, vice Mr. J. Lawrence on duty at Lahore.

Captain A. Broome, on special duty in Jammu instructing Maharaja Golab Singh's troops.

Mr. G. Campbell, Officiating Deputy Commissioner of Kaithal and later of Wadni.

Mr. G. J. Christian, employed as an Assistant in Ambála and Wadni. Deputed in September 1846 to complete Settlement work in Kulu and on his return employed in the office of the Agent, Governor-General, North-West Frontier, vice Lieutenant H. B. Edwardes.

Mr. R. N. Cust, Assistant Agent, Governor-General, in January 1846; later Assistant Commissioner at Hoshiárpur.

Captain J. F. Daniell, Assistant Commissioner at Ferozepore.

Lieutenant H. B. Edwardes, Assistant Commissioner: deputed to Jammu in September 1846 with Lieutenant Wroughton.

Mr. W. Ford, Deputy Commissioner, Ambála.

Mr. H. H. Greathed, in charge of Wadni.

Lieutenant E. Lake, Kángra and Jammu.

Captain W. Larkins, Ludhiána.

Lieutenant H. B. Lumsden accompanied Colonel H. Lawrence to Kashmir in October 1846. On return he was deputed to Hazára; then to Pesháwar.

Captain C. E. Mills, Assistant Agent, Governor-General, Ferozepore, and later Deputy Commissioner of Ambála, where he died in December 1846.

Major G. H. Macgregor, Deputy Commissioner and Political Assistant in the Trans-Sutlej Territory, on duty at Lahore.

Lieutenant J. Nicholson, on special duty in Jammu.

Mr. H. Scott, Assistant Commissioner at Ambála and Jullundur.

Mr. P. Vans Agnew, Assistant Commissioner, Ferozepore: deputed with Captain A. Cunningham to settle boundaries with Kashmir. Returned and posted to Ferozepore.

Mr. H. Vansittart, First Assistant Agent, Governor-General, Ambála; Deputy Commissioner, Jullundur, and Settlement Officer.

Mr. W. Wynyard, in charge of Boundary and Settlement duties, cis Sutlej.

3. Major H. Lawrence was at or near Lahore from the 23rd February 1846 to the 26th April, when he left for Kángra. From thence he went about the middle of June to Simla, where he stayed till the 1st October. On the 16th October he left Lahore for Kashmir and returned before the end of November. Mr. J. Lawrence, Commissioner of the Trans-Sutlej Territory, carried on the duties of Agent to the Governor-General at Lahore, in addition to his own, from the 21st August to the end of November 1846.

4. The object of Major Lawrence's visit to Kashmir at the head of a Sikh Force was to secure the transfer of that Province to Maharaja Golab Singh, which the Governor, Shaikh Imam-ud-din, resisted by force of arms, pleading the orders of Raja Lal Singh in justification of his resistance. On the surrender of Shaikh Imam-ud-din a Court of Enquiry was held at Lahore, presided over by Mr. F. Currie, Secretary to the Government of India with the Governor-General, who had been specially deputed for the purpose. It was fully established that Shaikh Imam-ud-din had been instigated in his resistance by Raja Lal Singh. Lal Singh was deposed and exiled to British India, and at the solicitation of the Darbar a fresh treaty was concluded at Bhyrowál in December 1846, by which, during the minority of Maharaja Dalip Singh, a British officer with a staff of Assistants was appointed with full authority to direct and control affairs in every department of the State, which were to be carried on by a Council of Regency. Further, a British Force was to remain at Lahore at the expense of the Darbar, and the British were to be at liberty to occupy any fort or position they thought advisable in the Sikh dominions.

5. Under orders dated the 26th December 1846, Lieutenant-Colonel H. M. Lawrence, C. B., was appointed Resident at Lahore, as well as Agent to the Governor-General for the North-West Frontier, with the following staff :—

One Chief Assistant (Mr. A. H. Cocks, C. S.),

Two Principal Assistants, one at Lahore (Major G. H. Macgregor) and the other at Peshâwar (Major G. St. P. Lawrence).

Three Assistants, one of whom was to command the Corps of Guides. The Assistants were Lieutenant H. B. Edwardes, Lieutenant H. Lumsden, Commanding the Guides, and Lieutenant J. Nicholson.

Two Extra Assistants, viz., Lieutenant R. G. Taylor and Mr. P. S. Melvill.

6. The arrangements for the administration of the territories, cis and trans Sutlej, were modified, the Commissioners and Superintendents of those territories being henceforward placed under the direct control of the Government of India instead of that of the Resident at Lahore, and being assisted by a staff of Deputy and Assistant Commissioners. The officers appointed were—

Maj. H. Lawrence, Agent, Govr.-Genl., N.-W. F., addressing the Govt. of India, reports the receipt of a demi-official letter from Capt. Broome dated the 25th March 1846, informing him of the arrival at Jasrota of Maharaja Gulab Singh and of the prospect of a quiet settlement of affairs in that neighbourhood. States that the country to the westward continues very unsettled, but around Lahore all is quiet. Mentions the progress made by the Darbar in paying and reorganising the army. Sir J. Littler with H. M.'s 80th and the 68th N. I. have moved into the town and the whole of our force is now within the walls. Edwards' letter of the 27th March 1846, and states that he had already drawn the attention of the Darbar to Maharaja Gulab Singh's accusations, and has heard that he has obtained possession of Jasrota and its dependencies. Maj. Lawrence has addressed Gulab Singh urging him to lose no time in despatching troops to Hazára, where the Sikhs are hard pressed. It is quite true that the Lahore authorities are slow in putting Maharaja Gulab Singh in possession of his territory, but the Maharaja has occupied Jasrota with the greatest ease. Maj. Lawrence thinks that if any native of India has the ability and means of establishing a strong and beneficient Govt. in the northern hills, Gulab Singh is the man, and although his rule has been very severe in the past, there is no reason why the peasantry of Kashmir should not be as happy as that of Nepál. Major Lawrence dwelt on the necessity of at once putting Maharaja Gulab Singh in possession of the hills, and Raja Lal Singh mentioned the action which had been taken. Maj. Lawrence also advised the Darbar officials to work in concert to insure the welfare of the country. Allusion was made to the Jammu-Lahore boundary and the deputation expressed its readiness to abide by Capt. Abbott's arbitration. Maj. Lawrence mentions having received a visit from Fakír Nur-ud-dín, who gave him an interesting account of the last days of his brother, the late Fakír Aziz-ud-dín. In conclusion, Major Lawrence encloses a statement showing the present state of the Lahore Army. (C.) (Vide Serial No. 21 infra.)	173	28	14-21

Major Lawrence does not share the general feeling that the Sikh soldiery will give trouble. It is by no means clear that the Sikh soldiers fought most bravely against us. Jammu and Lahore intelligence.	Maj. H. Lawrence, Agent, Govr.-Genl., N.-W. F., communicates to the Govt. of India the following items of intelligence from Jammu and Lahore :— Jammu.—Maharaja Gulab Singh is in a bad humour on three accounts,—1st, his being restrained from encroaching on Lahore territory; 2nd, the number of British officers who have gone to Kashmir; and 3rd, the conduct of Shaikh Imam-ud-dín, the Governor of Kashmir, who is resisting the Maharaja's authority. The ex-Raja of Rajauri, the ex-Chief of Bhimbar and other Chiefs of Kohistán are likely to give trouble. Major Lawrence has had no complaints of oppression of the ryots. On the contrary, the general impression is that the people of the Kohistán have gained by the change of Govt. The position of Capt. Broome and Lieut. Nicholson is by no means pleasant and they should be withdrawn as soon as Kashmir is settled. Later news from Jammu shows that Maharaja Gulab Singh is still full of complaints against Shaikh Imam-ud-dín and Raja Lal Singh. Lahore.—The news from Lahore relates to the following subjects:—Arrears of pay due the troops; disgust of Sardars at confiscation of their jagirs; state of dispute between the Darbar and the Govr. of Multán; favour shown by Raja Lal Singh to the Afghan faction, and Colonel Cortlandt, whose father Colonel Cortlandt, late of H. M.'s 31st Foot, the Raja wishes to employ; confiscation of jagirs; amusements of the Maharani; punishment by burning alive of a murderer at Lahore; complaints of Raja Lal Singh against Díwan Mulraj of Multán; appointment of Harsukh Rai to be Thanadar of Amritsar; fracas between the slave girl Mangla and Raja Lal Singh. The Atariwala family has, on the whole, behaved well. 3. Conduct of Raja Lal Singh.—The Raja is more conciliatory and amenable to advice, but still gives cause for complaint by resuming jagirs and giving them to his creatures. He has applied for the continuance of the British force at Lahore. There are rumours that the Raja is not altogether guiltless of the present rebellion in Kashmir. 4. Mr. J. Lawrence and other British officers in Lahore.—Mr. Lawrence has maintained a firm tone towards the Darbar and has succeeded in having troops paid, &c. Captain Edwardes is approaching Jammu and writes that the Vakíl of Shaikh Imam-ud-dín declares he can show letters from Raja Lal Singh to his master ordering him to hold on in Kashmir. 5. Pesháwar, Ráwalpindi and Western Frontier.—These districts are tolerably quiet and the arrival of Sardar Chatar Singh, Atariwala, has not been without effect. 6. Hazára—Continues in a disturbed state. Suggestions have been made to the Darbar for the despatch of more troops.	174	67	87-90

The Raja expects an increase of five lakhs on the sum paid by Díwan Mulraj, but has hitherto failed to extract anything from the Misrs, who are his relatives and are quite independent. Another relative, Misr Amír Chand, is quite as independent, and during the recent march of the Sikh troops towards Kashmir the Kardars of Wazirabad, &c., failed to provide supplies and carriage, and caused great inconvenience. Mr. Lawrence has urged the Darbar to punish the Kardars, but nothing has been done up to the present. Raja Lal Singh has been ill at ease since the surrender of Shaikh Imam-ud-dín and the report that the Shaikh had been heard in private by the Agent, Govr.-Genl. The Darbar has sent troops and guns to assist the officers of Maharaja Gulab Singh in Hazára. Sardar Fateh Khan, Tiwana, has rendered good service in Kashmir, and looks for a reward, but the Raja will probably find an excuse for leaving him unrewarded. The force at Pesháwar has not been paid, and it is not known what becomes of the revenues of the ilaka. (C.)	174	144	191-96

Narrative of events in the Punjab.	Mr. J. Lawrence, Comr., Trans-Sutlej States, on duty at Lahore, continues his narrative of events at Lahore during the last 15 days. The Darbar still continues deserted, as none of the Chiefs who accompanied the army towards Kashmir has yet returned. Genl. Cortlandt has, however, arrived, having been summoned by the Raja. Raja Lal Singh is awaiting the return of Lt.-Col. H. Lawrence to propose that the British troops should continue at Lahore. The Raja has been greatly dispirited since he heard that Shaikh Imam-ud-dín has publicly accused him of instigating the rebellion in Kashmir. Díwan Dína Nath and Fakír Nur-ud-dín have advised the Raja, if he is guilty, to confess and throw himself on the mercy of the British. Raja Lal Singh has made considerable reductions in the Irregular Cavalry, principally Sikhs, but he has at the same time entertained a large number of Muhammadans, and there will be a difficulty in meeting their pay. The troops in Pesháwar are still greatly in arrears and much bad feeling exists in that Province. Sardar Chatar Singh has not proceeded to Pesháwar to assume charge of the district, but has sent his son Gulab Singh, a mere boy. There has been a fight in Pesháwar between Arsala Khan and Khoedad Khan, two Muhammadan Chiefs, in which the former was defeated. Raja Lal Singh has declined to pay Shaikh Imam-ud-dín's troops on the plea that they did not belong to the Darbar notwithstanding the written promise given by Lieut. Edwardes, who was on duty in Kashmir. (C.)	174	145	197-203

As the existing boundary would be inconvenient to both States, suggests that some of the scattered villages of Núrpur be exchanged for the 42 villages of Meerthal, Nungal and Gurrota. This would give a well defined geographic frontier to our possessions as far as the parallel of Pathánkot. (O.) * Will be found in book containing Capt. Abbott's journals.	186	1 A	6

Edwardes to Jammu.	Lieut. Edwardes acknowledges the receipt of a letter* dated the 4th September 1846 from the Agent, Govr.-Genl., N.-W. F., directing him to proceed to Jammu with a view to keeping Govt. informed of proceedings in the Kohistán and Kashmir and advising Maharaja Gulab Singh at the present juncture. States that hostilities have broken out between Shaikh Imam-ud-dín and the Maharaja's troops. The chances of a peaceful settlement between the parties are thus at an end, but as this renders it the more necessary that Govt. should be kept constantly informed of the progress of events in Kashmir and the Kohistán, Lieut. Edwardes will continue to act upon the instructions he has already received. He has applied for the services of Lieutenant Wroughton, 12th Native Infantry, and hopes to start on the 13th, reaching Jammu on the 15th Septr. 1846. The Maharaja was inclined to continue negotiations with Shaikh Imam-ud-dín, but Lieutenant Edwardes has persuaded him that a show of force is necessary. The conclusion arrived at is that the Maharaja should endeavour to overthrow Shaikh Imam-ud-dín with Khalsa troops and that a British force should not advance beyond Bhimbar, unless the Khalsa troops are defeated. A reply to this effect has been dictated by the Maharaja and will be despatched to-morrow. Lieutenant Edwardes has induced the Maharaja to conciliate the Chiefs of Kohistán, especially the Kakka Bamba Chiefs, and has affixed his signature to the ishtihars which have been issued by the Maharaja. The Maharaja has sent a Tusullee Namah to the Shaikh by the hand of Pooran Chand. It was very vague and contained but one actual promise, viz., "subsistence." This was considered insufficient by Pooran Chand, and Lieutenant Edwardes has therefore taken upon himself the responsibility of sending the Shaikh a parwana (a copy of which is enclosed) promising him security for his life if he comes in without delay and the release of his family from confinement as soon as he arrives. Lt. Edwardes trusts this will meet with approval. Pooran Chand is accompanied on his mission by Sardars Fateh Khan, Tiwana, Rattan Singh, Jai Singh and Gulab Singh, an account of whom is given. As there are hopes of Shaikh Imam-ud-dín coming in, Lieut. Edwardes asks for instructions as to his treatment and disposal. If the Govr.-Genl. should	184	179 A	331 A

The Maharaja would be glad to dispense with the British force altogether if he could, and with elegant insincerity likens the rebellion in Kashmir to a fire, his own and the Khalsa forces to a stick, and the British Army to the hand of his friend the Govr.-Genl. In trying to put out the fire he says it is right that the wood should be entirely consumed before the tips of the fingers of the British Govt. are scorched. Lieut. Edwardes communicates the intelligence received from Kashmir, and inter alia the condition of the "Hari Parbat," where water is said to be scarce. He adds that his presence in Jammu has had the effect of rousing the Maharaja to action and he has made up his mind to lead his troops in person. (O.)	184	179 A	331 A

H. for the settlement of Kashmir. Mentions the disposition ordered by Maharaja Gulab Singh of the forces at his disposal and his intention to enter Kashmir by the Pass of Banihal with 7,000 men, if he can collect them, of which Lieut. Edwardes has great doubts, as the Maharaja's troops ordinarily receive no pay, but only rations. Only on some special occasion, such as active service, are a few rupees grudgingly bestowed upon the soldiers and then it is called an advance. Lt. Edwardes adds that intelligence received from Kashmir shows that hostilities had been suspended between the Shaikh and the Wazír, but both	184	179 B	331 B

Gives an account of the Rajauri family and the disposal of the Rajauri ilaka by Maharaja Gulab Singh. The proposal which Fakír-ulla Khan makes is to lay down his arms and submit to the Maharaja on condition of having his hereditary jagir of Rajawar, which he has seized from his cousin, conferred upon him on terms of service. Lieut. Edwardes has suggested to the Maharaja to reply to Fakír-ulla Khan that, if he is in earnest and really wishes to secure the release of his father from confinement, he should make over the fort of Rajawar to the Sikh troops now marching in that direction and join them in the campaign against Shaikh Imam-ud-dín. Lieutenant Edwardes summarizes the terms and conditions which have been offered to Shaikh Imam-ud-dín, and reports the arrangements which he has made with the Maharaja for the collection of supplies for the troops (British and Sikh) which are advancing upon Kashmir. Sardar Tej Singh's force will arrive about the same time, and it is probable that Mirza Fakír-ulla Khan will evacuate the fort and join Shaikh Imam-ud-dín. After settling Rajawar the Maharaja will proceed by a different route to that taken by Sardar Tej Singh, as he is unwilling that his soldiers should become familiar with the superior condition of the Sikhs, or that the Sikhs should see the miserable equipment of his soldiers. Advice offered by Col. H. M. Lawrence to Maharaja Gulab Singh. Position of affairs in Kashmir.	Lieut. Edwardes acknowledges receipt of a letter* dated the 29th Septr. 1846 from the Agent, Govr.-Genl., N.-W. F., enclosing a translation of a parwana to Díwan Jawala Sahai and requesting him to make known its contents to Maharaja Gulab Singh and convey to him Colonel Lawrence's sentiments and advice on several points connected with the settlement of Kashmir. Lieut. Edwardes has had an interview with the Maharaja and gives the substance of H. H.'s replies to the questions asked by Col. Lawrence. The Maharaja disclaims any wish to keep the British Govt. in the dark as to his position and means, or suppress information as to those of the enemy, but there is no doubt that he is doing so, and Lt. Edwardes cannot bear testimony to either his candour or his truth. On the next point, viz., the Maharaja's means and the extent to which he can rely on his own strength, the Maharaja now confesses that his force can only be regarded as a very humble auxiliary to a Sikh or British Army. To Colonel Lawrence's question "What assistance he requires from the British Govt.," the Maharaja is compelled to answer thus late in the day that he has little confidence in any of his Sikh allies, except Sardars Chatar Singh and Sher Singh, and is more than ever urgent for the advance of Brigadier Wheeler to Bhimbar. Lt. Edwardes' own opinion is that, if Shaikh Imam-ud-dín does not come in and there is any real work to be done, the British will have to do it. With reference to para. 3 of Col. Lawrence's letter the Maharaja, as might be expected, anxiously disclaimed any wish to cancel the arrangement by which he had become Lord of Kashmir. Vide* Serial No. 931 supra.	184	189 A	342 A

1131 concld.				Lieut. Edwardes has forwarded the letter from Rahím-ulla Khan of Rajauri to his son Fakír-ulla calling upon him to come in, which came enclosed in Col. Lawrence's letter. Lieut. Edwardes reports that the Maharaja has selected Mirza Hasíb-ulla, the head of the family, for installation at Rajauri when Fakír-ulla is expelled. This unfortunate young man was once remarkable for his personal energy and prowess and at the head of his clan in former days opposed Gulab Singh with considerable success. He was at last made prisoner and so cruelly treated that his intellect is almost gone. The Maharaja wished Lt. Edwardes to see Mirza Hasíb-ulla, but he has declined an interview. (C.)	184	189 A	342 A

Impending submission of Shaikh Imam-ud-dín.	Lieut. Edwardes reports the arrival of a kasid from Kashmir bringing despatches from Pooran Chand and Fateh Khan, Tiwana, and other letters to his address and also for the Maharaja. They confirm the news received yesterday that Shaikh Imam-ud-dín has yielded to the persuasions of the deputies, raised the siege of Hari Parbat, and made preparations for departure to Lahore. Lieut. Edwardes encloses translations of the five letters. It will be seen that there is one from each of the three missions, successful and unsuccessful, and one from the Hari Parbat garrison, which leaves no room for doubt as to the facts related. Lieut. Edwardes, however, thinks that it would have been still more satisfactory if the Shaikh had added only a single line to the budget. Though there is now more reason than ever to believe that Shaikh Imam-ud-dín will come in and submit peaceably to the British Govt., Lieut. Edwardes will not relax in his endeavours to induce the Maharaja to prepare vigorously for war. Return of deputation sent to Shaikh Imam-ud-dín and prospects of his submission.	Lt. Edwardes informs the Agent, Govr.-Genl., N.-W. F., that Sardar Fateh Khan, Tiwana, Lala Pooran Chand, Vakíl, and two Motamids of Shaikh Imam-ud-dín have arrived from Kashmir. They were ostensibly the bearers of a very submissive letter from the Shaikh in reply to Lieut. Edwardes' parwana of the 22nd September, and with one voice declared that the Kashmir dispute was settled and the Shaikh preparing to come away. In subsequent interviews, however, Lieut. Edwardes discovered that at least one-half of the real object of their mission was to endeavour to procure better terms than those already offered to Shaikh Imam-ud-dín by both the Maharaja and the British Govt., not so much as a condition of the Shaikh's coming in as with a view to make the most of the time till his preparations for so doing are completed. Lieut. Edwardes details the demands made by the Vakíls on behalf of the Shaikh from the Maharaja and the British Govt. respectively, and the replies given to them. He encloses translations of the parwana and letter to Shaikh Imam-ud-dín, which he has sent by the Vakíls. The former is confined to a simple guarantee of personal safety and immunity for the Shaikh's Kashmir property if he comes in and produces the written orders of his Govt. to act as he has done, a promise to meet him at Thunnuh, and an assurance that he need be under no anxiety about his family. The latter discusses four points which from their very nature have never been put forward by the Vakíls, but which Lieut. Edwardes believes to be the real ground of the Shaikh's continued resistance and on which therefore Lt. Edwardes thought it might not be lost time to meet	184	193 A	346 A

1133 concld.				his unexpressed objections. Lt. Edwardes states his own impression as to the result of the mission of Pooran Chand and Sardar Fateh Khan, Tiwana, to Kashmir, which is that when the Vakíls left the Shaikh his mind was made up to come away from Kashmir, and his letter to Lt. Edwardes, of which a translation is enclosed, shows that it was still unaltered after the Vakíls had gone. It remains to be considered what the chances are of his changing his mind again. Shaikh Imam-ud-dín is described to be a capricious and fickle man, with little reliance on himself and easily led by others. His wife, who is related to the Kakka Bamba Chiefs, is said to be an intriguing, headstrong woman, full of schemes for Muhammadan ascendancy—one of those mischievous characters so common in the east, a harem politician. This woman has gained an easy influence over Shaikh Imam-ud-dín and on a late occasion when wishing to goad him to hostilities placed sentries over her apartments with orders not to let him pass. "He is not a man," she said, "what can he want with a wife? After the fight let him come if he chooses." Shaikh Imam-ud-dín has much to deter him, but all things considered Lieut. Edwardes expresses his belief that the Shaikh will come in peaceably without striking another blow. Lieut. Edwardes is also of opinion that Shaikh Imam-ud-dín will bring and deliver up all the treasonable papers, many of which have been seen by Fateh Khan, Tiwana, and others. In conclusion Lt. The Khalifa further remarked that he was of opinion that on the removal of our troops disturbances would arise and that the Darbar would expect the British Govt. to interfere. The latter reported that the Multán affair would now certainly be settled and he would shortly proceed to Multán to bring Mulraj to Lahore. Mr. Lawrence conversed with Dína Nath regarding the removal of the British troops from Lahore, and the impression left on his mind was that the Díwan did not fear for the stability of the Lahore Government Sardar Mangal Singh, brother-in-law of the late Maharaja Kharak Singh, visited Mr. Lawrence, said that all the Chiefs were disgusted, and complained of the reduction of his jagirs. Mr. Lawrence adds that, accompanied by Maj. Macgregor and Lieut. Lumsden, he rode over the city and suburbs, paid a visit to Sultan Muhammad Khan, Barakzai, and inspected Genl. The Wazír and all the members of the Ministry but Bhai Ram Singh, who has not yet returned, called on Mr. Lawrence and informed him that for the present they had resolved to waive the point of requiring Díwan Mulraj to receive a Sikh garrison and that Díwan Dína Nath was to start at once for Multán to escort the Nazim to Lahore. It appears that the final resolve on other matters connected with the Sikh Chiefs and the Army, and with the reply they should submit to His Lordship on Mr. Lawrence's communications, is to be deferred until Bhai Ram Singh arrives. Raja Lal Singh told Mr. Lawrence that the Maharani was most anxious to carry out the views of the British Govt., but the Sikh Chiefs, in spite of every attempt to conciliate them, were plotting the Raja's assassination. Mr. Lawrence thinks that his reiterated assertions that the British Govt. is resolved to withdraw the army have had considerable weight with the Darbar, and that its members are therefore inclined to conciliate the Chiefs more than formerly. Mr. Lawrence adds that the heat at Lahore is excessive, the thermometer ranging as high as 95° in the barracks and yet Dr. Corbyn reports that the troops are healthy. (C.)	174 A	4	12

These letters show the bitter feeling of all Sikhs against Raja Lal Singh for his excesses. Mr. Lawrence expresses his opinion on the character and proceedings of Raja Lal Singh, and has come to the conclusion that on the departure of our army the Chiefs will all coalesce and endeavour to remove the Raja, probably by assassination. Visit by members of Darbar to Mr. J. Lawrence.	Mr. J. Lawrence informs the Government of India that he received a visit from Raja Lal Singh, accompanied by Sardar Kahn Singh, Majithia, Sardar Shamsher Singh, Sindhanwalia, Generals Ram Singh, Jalawalia, and Lal Singh, Moraria, with Khalifa Nur-ud-dín. The Raja mentioned that they were considering the reply to be given to the Governor-General and a communication would shortly be made by Bhai Ram Singh. 			Visit of Sardar Fateh Khan, Tiwana, to Mr. Lawrence.	Sardar Fateh Khan, Tiwana, a bold intriguing character whom Raja Lal Singh has recently deprived of his jagirs, paid Mr. Lawrence a visit. He said the Raja was trying to conciliate the Chiefs, but it would not do. They all knew him too well and would not stand by him when the evil day came. Mr. Lawrence was also visited by Sultan Muhammad Khan, Barakzai, who said he had been ordered by Raja Lal Singh to supply 2,000 Mussalman troops. The Sardar is anxious to return to Pesháwar. He says the Darbar is willing, and all that he wants is the permission of the British Government, which Mr. Lawrence told him was out of the question. News has been received that Fateh Khan, Gheba, an outlaw of influence, who has for the last six months been disturbing the public peace, has given himself up to Sardar Sher Singh. From a private letter from Rá-walpindi Mr. Lawrence hears that Sardar Sher Singh is said to be intriguing with Maharaja Gulab Singh. Mr. Lawrence has little to add to his remarks about Punjab affairs. Raja Lal Singh has conferred a jagir of the annual value of Rs. 1,40,000 on Sardar Híra Singh, a dissolute boy of about 18 years of age, who, instigated by the Sardars, complained of the intimacy of his sister with the Raja. Discussions with members of Lahore Darbar.	Mr. J. Lawrence, addressing the Government of India, reports that he had a visit yesterday from Raja Lal Singh accompanied by Bhai Ram Singh, Sardar Tej Singh and Khalifa Nur-ud-dín. During this visit the Bhai was the chief spokesman. He appears to be the ablest of the members of the Darbar and best to understand and appreciate the difficulties which will beset the Sikhs on the withdrawal of our troops. The conversation was in a great measure confined to the army and the Sardars. As regards the soldiery, Mr. Lawrence dwelt on the evils which would arise from keeping them in arrears and engaging Muhammadans. The Raja replied that he had taken steps to pay the troops and would raise two new corps of Singhs. On the subject of the Sardars and the necessity for conciliating them, Mr. Lawrence had a long and interesting conversation. It was agreed that the Chiefs were not satisfied and that a return should be prepared of all jagirs as they stood in Maharaja Ranjit Singh's time and as they stand now; that this return should be carefully scrutinized by Mr. Lawrence and the members of the Darbar and an endeavour made to compensate those who had suffered. Mr. Lawrence thinks that if these plans can be carried out there is still a chance of the Chiefs being conciliated and the Government maintained. Mr. Lawrence encloses a return of the Ghorchara or Irregular Horse drawn up by Major Macgregor. (C.)	174 A	8	43

			Lahore affairs	Matters continue tranquil and settled at Lahore. To the eye all runs smooth, but to those behind the scenes it is apparent that intrigue and disaffection are as prevalent as ever. Mr Lawrence has been obliged to speak very plainly to Raja Lal Singh The jagir returns are not yet ready. Mr. Lawrence hears that the Raja has given instructions for the preparation of garbled statements. Major Macgregor, C. B., and Lieutenant Lumsden paid the Maharaja a farewell visit and Mr. Lawrence accompanied them. The Mabarani through Khalifa Nur-ud-dín expressed her grief at the departure of Major Macgregor and her sense of the kindness and consideration which had marked his conduct during his residence at Lahore. The 4th September being the 8th anniversary of the birth of the Maharaja, it was arranged with Sir John Littler to fire a salute in commemoration of the event. The Vakíl of Díwan Mulraj waited on Mr. Lawrence and presented a letter from his master, asking for a safe conduct, and a pledge that the Darbar should require no more from him than what had been settled. Mr. Lawrence replied pledging himself on the part of the British Government that he would be treated with honour, and advising him to come in at once. (C.)

Deputation of Sardar Chatar Singh to Peshâwar. Lahore affairs,,,	Mr. Lawrence informs the Government of India that having received authentic information from several quarters that Sardar Chatar Singh had not left his jagir in progress to Peshâwar, he has addressed the Sardar urging his instant departure. Mr. Lawrence hesitated at first to write lest it might hurt the Raja's feelings, but the evil of leaving Peshâwar without a Governor is so great that he acted on the emergency, and trusts he has not exceeded the authority entrusted to him by the Governor-General. It has been reported that Raja Lal Singh had an assembly of Chiefs, whom he asked why they were dissatisfied and made complaints to Mr. Lawrence. On their declaring that they were well pleased with him and his management of affairs he required them to sign a paper to this effect. After much discussion they finally signed a document stating that they were and would remain true and faithful subjects of the Maharaja and be guided by the advice of Raja Lal Singh. Mr. Lawrence visited Bhai Ram Singh, who has been afraid to call upon him lest he should incur the Raja's displeasure. The Bhai returned Mr. Lawrence's visit and discussed the state of affairs at the Lahore Darbar. The Bhai is decidedly of opinion that unless a Sahib and a paltan are left in Lahore things will get into confusion. Mr. Lawrence has now ascertained and reported the individual sentiments of the different members of the Darbar. The opinion of the lower orders appears to be no whit more favourable. The cultivators and traders all say they are oppressed and plundered and there is no one to hear. It is the talk of the bazar that the Raja's life depends on the presence of our troops. Everything wears the same appearance of tranquillity and natives tell him that Lahore was never so quiet and secure in their memory; not even in Ranjit Singh's time. Mr. Lawrence informs the Govt. of India that intelligence has been received from Rajauri which shows that the battle which had taken place between the troops of Maharaja Gulab Singh and Shaikh Imam-ud-dín had not been as disastrous as at first reported. It is said that all the people of the Kohistán, that is, between the foot of the hills by Bhimbar to the passes into Kashmir, were in arms. Mr. Lawrence has requested the Darbar to take such precautions as will prevent Faiz Talab Khan, the Bhimbar Chief, who is very inimical to Maharaja Gulab Singh, from leaving Lahore. Raja Lal Singh paid Mr Lawrence a visit. He said that the Maharani and all the Darbar were in the greatest distress on account of the conduct of Shaikh Imam-ud-dín; that they had used every endeavour to make him evacuate Kashmir, but in vain; and that they were now in the hands of the Govr.-Genl. Mr. Lawrence informed the Raja that His Lordship was already displeased and it was impossible to say what would happen when the news of the battle reached Simla. Mr. Lawrence then turned the conversation on the affairs of Lahore, telling the Raja that nothing could be less satisfactory than the way in which matters were conducted; that in spite of all he had urged the Pesháwar troops were still unpaid; that intrigue and disaffection still existed among the Chiefs; and that no revenue was coming in. Mr. Lawrence concluded the interview by suggesting that the Darbar should write to Govt. and state fairly their wishes and the danger they apprehended, when they would receive a reply from His Lordship. Bhai Ram Singh paid Mr. Lawrence a visit and seemed to think that, if the Darbar bound itself by very stringent conditions to obedience, our Govt. might allow the army to stay, otherwise the result will be anarchy. Mr. Lawrence feels assured that the fears of the Maharani and the Darbar are well founded. He expresses his opinion as to what would be the result of Govt. either withdrawing the army or even maintaining it at Lahore under the present system, and, at the risk of going beyond his province, suggests that Govt. should undertake the management of the country in trust for the young Maharaja until he arrives at manhood. News from Kashmir. State of affairs in Lahore.	Mr. Lawrence reports, for the information of the Govr.-Genl., that letters have been received from Díwan Hakim Rai and Sohan Lal, dated the 7th and 8th September, to the effect that Saifulla Khan of Rajauri had arrived at that place (sic) from Kashmir with several hundred men, when Mirza Yusaf, the Govr. on the part of Maharaja Gulab Singh, who had only about 50 to 100 men with him, fled, but being pursued was taken and placed in confinement. The news from Kashmir is confirmatory of previous intelligence. On the day the letters were written it was reported that the fort of Hari Parbat still held out, but was expected to fall. Letters have also been received from the country of Hazára, which say that the people are up in arms in every direction and that the Yusafzais of Pesháwar will pay no revenue and are in a state little short of rebellion. Everything is tranquil in Lahore. Mr. Lawrence is pressing Raja Lal Singh to make an example of some of the officials who have kept back the rev-	174 A	17	80

			Communication from Maharaja Gulab Singh to Mr. Lawrence.	Mr. Lawrence has received a letter from Maharaja Gulab Singh to which he has replied that Lieut. Edwardes would join him on the 15th and give him advice in all matters, and that Mr. Lawrence had directed the attachment of all Shaikh Imam-ud-dín's property, but could not imprison his wives and children as the Maharaja wished The Vakíl of Díwan Mulraj of Multán informed Mr. Lawrence that his master is ready to start for Lahore as soon as Díwan Dína Nath arrives. Raja Lal Singh, Bhai Ram Singh and Fakír Nur-ud-dín waited on Mr. Lawrence and said that they were anxious to ask His Lordship to allow the troops to remain six months longer at Lahore Mr. Lawrence replied that, after the message he had brought from Simla and all that had been said on the subject, he was surprised at their thinking of such a thing. Mr. Lawrence added that in his opinion the permission would not be accorded, but they were at liberty to ask. (C.)

Mr. Lawrence informs the Govt. of India that the Darbar are exerting themselves strenuously in order to assist Maharaja Gulab Singh in the subjugation of Kashmir; stringent orders have been issued to all the Chiefs and Officers Comdg. from Lahore to Attock to be in readiness to march at a moment's notice; and Sardar Sher Singh has been placed in command. Letters have been received from Multán reporting the arrival of Díwan Dína Nath, who is expected to return to Lahore with Díwan Mulraj about the 5th or 6th of October. Orders of Govr.-Genl. regarding Lahore affairs.	Mr. Lawrence acknowledges the receipt of letter No. 341,* dated the 15th September 1846, from the Government of India, and states that he has apprised the Darbar through Khalifa Nur-ud-dín of the instructions received from the Govr.-Genl. in reply to his communication detailing the conversation which had taken place at the conference with the Maharani. It was suggested to the Khalifa that it would be well if Raja Lal Singh and his coadjutors thought over the matter again and wrote their views to the Govt. Raja Lal Singh waited on Mr. Lawrence, discussed the state of affairs in Kashmir, and attempted to exonerate himself from all reproach for the misconduct of Shaikh Imam-ud-dín in Kashmir Mr. Lawrence took the opportunity of questioning the Raja as to the wishes of the Darbar in regard to the withdrawal of the British troops, and gave him advice on this and other matters connected with his attitude towards his co-adjutors. Mr. Lawrence considers the state of affairs at Lahore unsatisfactory in the extreme. He believes that there is not the slightest trust and confidence to be placed in any person or in any party, and that there is an utter want of truth and honour in all. Mr. Lawrence adds that Sardar Lal Singh, Moraria, is the leading Sardar of the discontented party at Lahore, and the Raja is most anxious to gain him over to his side. (C.)	174 A	19	85

Intercepted communication from Rajauri. Kashmir rebellion. Views of Sardars as to state of affairs in Lahore.	Mr. Lawrence submits, for the information of the Govt. of India, a translation of a letter from Fakír-ulla Khan of Rajauri to his father at Simla, which Raja Lal Singh intercepted and which Mr. Lawrence has with some difficulty obtained. The letter appears to be of importance as showing the unanimity which prevails among the Muhammadan tribes in and about Kashmir and the necessity for prompt action on the part of Maharaja Gulab Singh. The Darbar has evinced considerable activity in getting its troops ready for service. Mr. Lawrence considers it doubtful if the intelligence reported demi-officially by him of the fall of the Hari Parbat is correct. Díwan Mulraj is reported to have left Multán. Sardar Lal Singh, Moraria, and Genl. Bishen Singh waited on Mr. Lawrence, who gathered from their conversation that the Sardars named are united in their views and consider the departure of the British Army as fraught with danger to their interests. They would be glad to see Sardar Lehna Singh made Wazír and an English force kept at Lahore until the Maharaja arrives at years of discretion. Sardar Lal Singh, Moraria, was of opinion that if a Wazír was necessary, Sardar Lehna Singh was the man, but they would prefer a "Sahib" (who has neither friends nor enemies) until the Maharaja can govern himself. Mr. Lawrence adds that he is endeavouring to make Raja Lal Singh insist on a regular system of revenue accounts being rendered by the Kardars, but he fears his attempts will be in vain. The Raja's brother, who has nearly half the revenues of the country under his control, appears to be the	174 A	21	92

Measures for suppression of rebellion in Kashmir. Letter from Shaikh Imam-ud-dín to Mr. Lawrence.	Mr. Lawrence acknowledges receipt of letter No. 348,* dated the 25th of Septr. 1846, from the Government of India, and states that he has sent off messengers to collect provisions between Lahore and Ferozepore and Lahore and Siálkot. Sardar Tej Singh with his troops is now crossing the Ravi. Mr. Lawrence believes this force to be as efficient and well equipped as any body of men the Sikhs have ever turned out. He thinks that a British officer should accompany it. Sardars Sher Singh and Chatar Singh are ready to move from Ráwalpindi. Mr. Lawrence communicates the news received from Kashmir, which shows that Shaikh Imam-ud-dín has raised the siege of Hari Parbat. Mr. Lawrence also encloses a translation of a letter from the Shaikh and a statement of his case, together with the reply he has sent guaranteeing him his life and pardon if he will come in and prove to the satisfaction of Mr. Lawrence the truth of the assertions he has made that the rebellion has been instigated by the Lahore Darbar. Mr. Lawrence also forwards translations of petitions from the chief inhabitants of Kashmir and the Hill Chiefs. They are written in a very humble strain laudatory of Shaikh Imam-ud-dín. The writers appear to have a great horror of the rule of Maharaja Gulab Singh, and Mr Lawrence thinks with good reason. (C.) * Vide Serial No. 217 supra.	174 A	22	103

From the Palace to the hovel indeed the women of the Punjab are notorious. I have heard it stated by respectable persons that it is not uncommon for a Sardar to meet his own wife in these haunts of vice, and it was observed in my presence that the Chiefs live in the brothels and their wives content themselves with their followers." Mian Jawahir Singh, son of the late Raja Dhian Singh, continues dissatisfied with his uncle Maharaja Gulab Singh, and intends visiting Lt.-Col. Lawrence, but has been dissuaded from doing so. The effect of the deputation of Maj. G. Lawrence and Lieut. Lumsden to Peshâwar has been very beneficial, as the whole condition of Peshâwar is rotten. The attention of the Darbar has been drawn to the state of the forts, &c. Captain Edwardes' proceedings in Tank, Bannu, have been very satisfactory as shown by his diaries, and so have those of Lieut. Nicholson in the direction of Multân, &c. Lieut. The orders regarding the reduction of the army will be strictly followed. Lt.-Col. Lawrence has advised Raja Dína Nath to call for returns of revenue received for the past seven years, on which demands can be based until a settlement is effected. The Darbar has issued orders to Sardar Lehna Singh to take away fire-arms from discharged soldiers and doubtful characters, and it is hoped the measure will have a good effect on the security of the Mánjha. F., submits to the Govt. of India copies of letters from Pesháwar and diaries from that place and Bannu regarding the present state of affairs on the Indus. The original purpose of Capt. Edwardes' mission has failed, but many advantages have attended it. The arrangements in Hazára continue unsatisfactory and Mr. Agnew's life has been endangered. Lt.-Col. Lawrence has written to Maharaja Gulab Singh and Díwan Jawala Sahai and will speak seriously to the latter on his arrival at Lahore. Lieut. Nicholson has returned from Multán and reports favourably on the whole of Díwan Mulraj, but the Díwan's notions of administration are primitive and arbitrary. Lawlessness prevails	175	46	48-54

As a measure of protection to the people from their Kardars and of prevention of crime, Judges have been appointed throughout the country. Sardar Ranjor Singh was appointed Chief Judge, as a better man could not be found, but he has been convicted of concealing arms and has been removed by the Darbar, Genl. Kahn Singh, Mán, being appointed in his stead. Mentions the limits of the jurisdiction of Genl. Kahn Singh and also that of Sardar Ram Singh, Jullawala, and Sardar Chatar Singh, who have also been appointed Judges. Lt.-Col. Lawrence intends drawing up a brief code of laws for general adoption in the Punjab. Sardar Sher Singh, Atariwala, who has been removed from the Governorship of Peshâwar, is very dissatisfied. Lt.-Col. Lawrence mentions what he has done for the family to keep them pleased. Notices the difficult task Sardar Tej Singh and Díwan Dína Nath have to perform and the obloquy heaped on them for the retrenchments they are obliged to make. When the reductions and refunds are completed Lt.-Col. Lawrence intends to fix salaries for the several new appointments. Sardar Atar Singh, Kalawala, who is reducing the Irregular Cavalry, continues to give satisfaction and the complaints against him are few. Lt.-Col. Lawrence is disinclined, for reasons stated, to believe the imputations against the honesty of Díwan Dína Nath, who has been furnished with a copy of paragraph 9 of Govt. letter No. 116, dated the 3rd April 1847. Reports of evil intentions on the part of the Sikhs continue. There is no doubt the people are chafing under a foreign yoke, but they have been rendered powerless for a time. There is, however, nothing too foolish, nothing too desperate for Asiatic zealots and desperadoes to attempt. Lt.-Col. Lawrence is therefore always on the alert and is well supported by his Assistants and the command of the Lahore garrison could not be in better	175	46	48-54

Proposed exchange of territory between Maharaja Gulab Singh and the Darbar.	Lieut.-Col. H. Lawrence, Resdt. at Lahore and Agent, Govr.-Genl., N.-W. F., forwards for the orders of the Govt. of India, with his remarks thereon, correspondence connected with a proposition on the part of the Agents of Maharaja Gulab Singh for an exchange of the hill country west of the River Jhelum for an equivalent to the east of that river. Lt.-Col. Lawrence supports the proposal as it ensures an excellent natural boundary, and adds that Mr. Vans Agnew's note now enclosed may be taken as a supplement to his report on Hazára. (C.) 47	No. 61, dated 2nd June 1847.	Ditto	Proposed extension of Husli Canal to Anárkali, &c.	In reply to Mr. Secy. Elliot's letter No. 154, dated the 19th May 1847, Lieut.-Colonel H. Lawrence, Resident at Lahore and Agent, Govr.-General, N.-W. F., explains the delay in furnishing the monthly statements therein called for. In accordance with the sanction contained in letter No. 120, dated the 7th April 1847, Lieut. Paton of the Engrs. has been deputed to examine the Husli Canal with a view to extending it from the Shálamár Gardens to Anárkali as desired by the Darbar. Lieut. Paton will also examine a proposed branch line which would irrigate the country between Tarn Táran and Kasúr. The arid tract between the Jhelum and Chenab will also be surveyed with a view to irrigating it from the former river. States that measures will also be taken for improving the roads to Amritsar, &c., and asks for the services of four Engineer officers and ten or twelve well instructed sergeants, whose pay will be borne by the Darbar. Draws attention to Capt. Abbott's notice of mineral deposits in the low hills above Ráwalpindi. Lt.-Col. Lawrence will call upon him for more detailed information on the subject. Referring to the extract from Col. Sleeman's letter received with Mr. Secy. Elliot's despatch No. 144, dated the 30th April 1847, Lt.-Col. Lawrence explains his	175	61	66-71

Amplifies the remarks in his letter No. 46, dated the 26th April 1847, on the possibility of future disturbance, as it is wise to keep before our eyes the fact that the spirit of unrest and insurrection slumbers, but is not yet dead in the Punjab. With reference to the remarks in Capt. Abbott's last diary regarding the begar system, Lt.-Col. Lawrence promises to look into the matter and do all in his power to restrain the seizure of carriers. The Darbar has promised to revise the Customs system. Lt.-Col. Lawrence reports Capt. Edwardes' return from Bannu. Lieutenant J. Nicholson is to proceed to Amritsar to report on Gobindgarh and the general management of the Amritsar District, while Mr. Cocks is to go to Rámnagar to look after the Kardars in that direction. Peace continues throughout the Punjab and Jammu territories, and Lt.-Col. Lawrence has strong hopes that the arrangement by which Hazára has been restored to Lahore will tend to its continuance. Maj. G. Lawrence has been directed to discourage, though not positively forbid, Sardar Sultan Muhammad Khan's correspondence with his brothers, which is likely to give offence to the Amír. Mentions the rumours regarding the object of the visit of the Kábul Vakíl, who has arrived at Pesháwar. (C). Lumsden's notice of the bands of horse in the service of the different Yusafzai Khans, as also of some recent observations of Major Lawrence on the authority assumed by the jagirdars, Lt.-Col. Lawrence has directed that officer to reduce all such persons to the position they held in Ranjit Singh's time, except in regard to mutilation or capital punishment, which no man is to inflict. Measures will be taken to put down the band of predatory horse referred to by Lieutenant Lumsden. Lt.-Col. Lawrence does not agree with Capt. Lawrence reports the example he intends making of some murderers with a view to striking terror into the bands of ruffians now abroad in the vicinity of Lahore. (C.) Lawrence is glad to notice that the Darbar officers going into the district are strictly enjoined to pay for fodder and provisions and that Judicial officers are ordered to punish and prevent infanticide. The decision of Govt. regarding the Juliundur jagirs has caused considerable disappointment. Maharaja Gulab Singh is gradually bringing his affairs into something like order. Lieut. "A wise man avoids death by taking medicine when sickness first assails him. Foresight consists in providing for events before they happen. The English are certainly a just and good natured people and the Christian religion which they profess is one full of mercy and humanity. It says 'if any one smite thee on one cheek, then turn the other to him also,' that the smiter may in this way be made ashamed. The prosperity of such a nation must be enduring and Muhammad Amín Khan attaches himself to its fortunes, taking fast hold of the rope of Christianity." He accordingly now sends his trusty servant so that he may not at any future time be reproached by the Company or its officers saying if you were our friend why did not you let us know a little sooner? Muhammad Amín Khan hopes that his request for British protection will be granted, and if it is he will be ready with 40,000 Túrkomans and Usbeks to do our bidding with heart and soul. He mentions that his servant Pír Ali, whom he sent to Bokhára, reports that the King of that country is in great alarm, so much so that he says in open Darbar "What a fool was I to make enemies of the English?" The Pír also tells him that at the foot of the Minar of Bokhára there lives an English gentleman, who is commonly called "Haji," but nobody knows that he is an Englishman. The Pír's acuteness discovered that he was not what he appeared. "Have no fears on this account." The Vakíl who brought the above asks for a speedy answer and leave to return.	176	92	172-75

646 (a)	No. 5, dated 9th Octr. 1847.	From—Captain A. Cunningham, Senior Comr., Tibetan Frontier, Camp Leh. To—Lieut.-Col. H. M. Lawrence, C. B., Resdt. at Lahore and Agent, Govr.-General, N.-W. F.	Movements of Tibetan Boundary Commission. Antiquarian researches of Capt. A. Cunningham.	Captain A. Cunningham, Senior Comr., Tibetan Frontier, reports his arrival with Dr. Thomson at Lé, the capital of Ladákh, where they have halted and taken observations to settle the latitude and longitude of the place. They are leaving to-morrow morning (10th October 1847) by two different routes. Dr. Thomson proceeds to Nubra and up the Shayok River to its source, and if possible he will cross the Kára Korum Range for a few marches to the northward on the Yárkand road, after which he will return by the Shayok River to Skárdu. Captain Cunningham will take a somewhat southerly route by following the Indus for a few marches to Khalets or Kututsi, and thence to the Drás River, which he will survey to its source. From Drás, if the passes remain open, he will proceed by the Tilyl (or Tillel) rivulet, an eastern feeder of the Kishengunga River, to Astor or Hasora, and down the Hasora River and across the Indus to Gilgit. But if the passes are closed Captain Cunningham will proceed through the northern part of Kashmir to the head of the Kishengunga River and thence by the Hasora River to Gilgit. These routes have been chosen so that Capt. Cunningham and Dr. Thomson may not go over the same ground as Lieut. Strachey. Capt. Cunningham remarks on the inaccuracy of Vigne's maps, while he has found those of Trebeck generally accurate. In selecting a route which will conduct him by the head of the Kishengunga River to Hasora, Capt. Cunningham believes he will fulfil the intentions of Govt. as detailed in the instructions contained in Mr. Secy. Elliot's letter No. 249 of the 27th July 1847, in which he is directed to follow out his own antiquarian pursuits, as well as to increase our geographical knowledge. At the head of the Kishengunga River there is a district named Pakhtáwar which, from its proximity to Kashmir, is, Capt. Cunningham has no doubt, the original seat of the Pakhtans (or Afghans). Our earliest authority for coupling the Afghans and Kashmiris together is Herodotus, whose city of Kaspapuros	189	35 (a)	135 (a)

646 (a) concld.				Captain Cunningham would correct to Káspákturos, that is, the city (or country) of the Kás and Pakhtans (the Kashmirís and Afghans). The similarity of features of the two people would alone argue their common origin, but their former juxtaposition, the one on the Jhelum and the other on the Kishengunga, places the point (in Captain Cunningham's opinion) beyond dispute. The fact of their diversity of language can, Captain Cunningham thinks, be easily accounted for. Hasora, Captain Cunningham believes to be the country of the Abhisaras of Alexander's historians on account of its proximity to the Dardu Districts. In Yasin and Gilgit Captain Cunningham believes we have the Arsagalitœ of Pliny still preserved. To the south of the Dards again lies the country of the Gakars, whose ancient as well as modern capital was Dangali, which doubtless gave its name to the Dangalœ of Pliny. Capt. Cunningham has not had time to digest and arrange the information he has collected regarding Ladákh, but mentions that its present name is a modern one, the ancient name being Máyul. Lé also is a modern capital, the ancient metropolis having been at Shé, now a large village eight miles to the south-eastward of Lé. Captain Cunningham encloses his diary from the 16th September to the 9th October, 1847. (O.) (Vide Serial Nos. 625-6 supra and 662 (a) and 699 infra.)	189	35 (a)	135 (a)

B., Resident at Lahore and Agent, Govr.-General, N.-W. F.	Antiquarian researches of Captain A. Cunningham in Kashmir.	Captain A. Cunningham, Senior Comr., Tibetan Frontier, addressing the Resident at Lahore and Agent, Govr.-General, N.-W. F., states that he has been detained at Gingal, 15 miles west of Báramúla, for want of porters. Encloses a diary* of his marches and proceedings up to date. From a perusal of this document it will be seen that he has discovered beyond all doubt the exact position of the ancient capital of Kashmir in Pandritán. He has also discovered that the ancient country of Bolor is identical with the present Balti or Little Tibet. But the most valuable discovery which he has made since his last report dated the 20th Novr. 1847 has been the acquisition of three new Sanskrit dramas, two of which were hitherto known to us only by name and the third was altogether unknown. Copies of these dramas are being made and will be forwarded when completed. The names of the dramas are— (1) Anergha Raghava—One of the hitherto lost plays of which Profr. Wilson had obtained only the name. (2) Srinagar Tilaka.—Another of the lost plays of which Profr Wilson had obtained only the name. (3) Vasavadatta cheritra.—"A short piece hitherto entirely unknown written by Subandukavi, a Kashmiri Brahman." In the Retnavali (also a Kashmirian drama) translated by Profr. Wilson the heroine is likewise named Vasavadatta. In that play she is the Queen of Vatsa, the Raja of Kausambi, but the other characters are different. 			Case of village of Bhuchur ki Wahn.	Explains the facts connected with the case of the village of Bhuchur ki Wahn, from which extra revenue has been exacted. The sum of Rs. 500 for a dharmarth to the Mians of Miánwáli was proposed by Mul Singh and sanctioned by the Resdt. The ferry dues at Isa Khel should be maintained at the old rates, and to prevent disputes a tariff should be drawn up showing the rates payable, which should include the Govt. share. Lieutenant Edwardes thinks that General Cortlandt should have confined the Kardar of Girang instead of simply suspending him, but the Genl.'s position is a difficult one, as all his reports go through the Darbar, which suppresses those of an unpleasant nature. The General takes a great interest in his ilaka and is doing good work. (O.)

Advocates the disarming of the Banuchís as the only means of securing a peacéful administration, and instances the good results obtained from the disarming of the people of Doond and Sahuttee (sic) occupying the hill country on the right bank of the Jhelum between Muzaffarabad and Ráwalpindi.
